The meeting was called to order by President Steve Koyama. President Steve welcomed everyone and introduced the head table: Amanda Cox, Steve Cox, and Bonnie Tabor.

Jade Powers shared an inspiration with the Club. She started by telling us she was glad to be back...and being a single parent with three children is hard work. She said that she has been sharing a book with her children: Mindset. When she was asked what that meant she explained that it is "how we perceive things." She is teaching her children to reach for their dreams.

Alvin Goo led the Club in the Pledge of Allegiance to the American flag.

Jim Hogarty introduced our guests. He started with Kathryn Henski who introduced her daughter Robin. Robin will be going to Foodfest thanks to Bill Amigone. Jim then asked Past District Governors to stand and be recognized along with Past Presidents. PDG Phil Sammer helped the Club sing our welcome song to our special Rotarian guests. President Elect Steve Morgan gave a special welcome and asked them to introduce themselves to us. We had two Rotarians from Australia: PDG Steve Humphreys and his wife. PP Paul Grab also introduced himself to us! Banners were shared and PDG Steve told us that he was here when he was 21 years old, attending an Elvis concert! His wife told us that she loved being the DG's wife and that is why she joined Rotary.

Announcements:

1. PE Steve Morgan reminded us of Children and Youth Day on October 1. He said that the nominating committee has been formed: PP Tony Gedeon, PP Mic Minicola, PP Gene Gelfo, Glen Perry, and Kathryn Higa.
2. Justin Alexander reminded us of the work at the Waikiki Community Center on October 7th. This is a tough day....because of Foodfest, but volunteers would be appreciated.
3. PP Sally Blanchard reminded us of the opportunity of giving a donation to Foodland, which will be matched, and given to the Hawaii Rotary Youth Foundation for scholarships. This can be done through the month of September.
4. Kathryn Henski asked for volunteers to help feed the homeless on Thanksgiving Day at Blaisdell.

President Elect Steve Morgan presented a $2,000 check to Bonnie Tabor, the principal of Waikiki Elementary School. Bonnie thanked us for the donation and for reading to kindergarten students and giving the students books. She appreciates our partnership over the years and hopes it will continue. She invited all of us to a Fun Fair on Friday at 2:30! She also invited us to come to school, at lunch time, and sit with some students, talking story! She will buy lunch!

PE Steve Morgan share the Aloha Bucket. Jim Hogarty donated for general principles. PP Paul Grabb said he was leaving but would be back in January. PP Chuck Braden said he knew that he and Peter Ehrhorn donated money to PE Steve when he was stuck in the Philippines. PP Tony Gedeon said his family is growing. His third son recently got married and there will be a reception on February or March. He bought a table for the Foodfest so they can all attend. PP Dick Matti gave $5 to thank PP Carol Riley for being scribe. PP Gene Grounds said he lost his wallet in Coronado. He had a picture of his driver's license, but was told at TSA that was not good enough for the flight home. He talked to two supervisors and made it home! PP Dave Livingston thanked everyone for their donations for the Foodfest and needs to turn the final list into PP Dave Hamil for printing, so be sure to let him know of all of your donations by the end of the day. He also said his wife is with her 99-year-old father in California. PP Dave is looking to celebrating his 100th birthday in April! Janel Denny donated a dollar to help PE Steve Morgan. PP Dave Hamil thanked all of his committee Foodfest co-chairs for their hard work.

President Steve introduced our guest speakers: Amanda and Stan Cox. Amanda and Steve work with the non-profit Honolulu Museum of Contemporary Pop, a benefit for the Hawaii National Music Foundation of the Pacific. Stan is a professional photographer and banking coach. Amanda is the marketing director of the non-profit.

The mission of the Honolulu Museum of Contemporary Pop is to perpetuate and preserve national achievements in music through specialized education programs. There are 30 different jobs in the recording industry and there are many talented students in Hawaii who need to learn about the craft and enhance their skills. Music is a universal language, but has been cut from many schools. Through this foundation, hands-on learning activities will be provided to students.

Kirk Thompson has funded the operations of the non-profit, but is seeking sponsors to share the spotlight. There is a fundraiser (Preserve the Music “Hawaii”) scheduled for Saturday, November 4 at the Hilton Hawaiian Village: Tapa Ballroom. This will be the inaugural recognition dinner and awards ceremony. There will be silent and live auctions as well as school awards. Tickets are available now. Stand Cox can be reached at 808.841.7733 if you are interested in buying tickets.

We had a drawing! PP Chad’s ticket was drawn, but no winner today! We ended the meeting by reciting the Four Way Test. A stand-up board meeting and Foodfest committee meeting followed the meeting.

Respectfully Submitted, Past President Carol Riley

Rotary pilots new approach and spotlights six peacemakers

EVANSTON, Ill. (September 21, 2017)

— Rotary has entered a new partnership with the Institute for Economics and Peace (IEP) to enhance its peace and conflict resolution efforts with data-driven methodologies and tools; as it honors six ‘Champions of Peace.’

The partnership with IEP – a global think tank that pioneered a conceptual framework for ‘Positive Peace’ – enables both organizations to work together to create an online learning platform with webinars and interactive tools to teach Rotary members and Rotary Peace Fellows to apply new peacebuilding methods to their communities while addressing underlying causes of conflicts. In addition, the partnership allows for the development of local workshops hosted by Rotary clubs to educate communities about positive peace.

“Peace is much more than the mere absence of violence,” said Rotary President Ian H.S. Riseley. “The IEP has helped shift the world’s conversation about peace to a positive, achievable and tangible measure of human wellbeing and progress. Our partnership will foster community-based projects in peace and conflict resolution that are both practical and impactful.”

“We are excited to be partnering with Rotary on this important initiative to reach millions of people, helping them to become peacemakers,” said founder and Executive Chairman of IEP Steve Killelea. “As recent events clearly indicate, peace is a pre-requisite for humanity to thrive. The Rotary programs, built on Positive Peace, will be an invaluable contribution to global peace.”

Rotary members and peace fellows take action to address underlying causes of conflict by providing access to clean water and sanitation, supporting education, preventing and treating disease, saving mothers and children and growing local economies. To celebrate their impact and in recognition of International Day of Peace, Rotary is highlighting the following six Champions of Peace:

TODAY'S SPEAKER: ELISSA LINES

Elissa Lines has been a part of the leadership team for the EAA (Experimental Aircraft Association) in Oshkosh, Wisconsin for nearly 10 years, leading their donor and business relationship outreach. Prior to that, she was affiliated with both the Seattle Museum of Flight and the Pima Air & Space Museum, leaving her mark at all three entities — new programs, increased revenue, and greater impact for both the local and the national audiences that benefit from these programs.

“We are excited to welcome Elissa to Honolulu and to the Museum’s team,” commented Clint Churchill, president of the Museum’s Board of Directors. “The Museum is a national and international-level project that will require a significant expansion of our community of supporters and believers; we feel that, with Elissa’s record, the Museum will gain a significant boost toward reaching our funding and expansion goals.”

“I am excited to work side-by-side with those whose efforts will honor the men and women who served in the Pacific,” Ms. Lines stated. “My father fought in the Battle of Midway and also served at Guadalcanal. For many of us, the service of our parents went unnoticed during their lifetimes. We did not get a chance to talk about the history or honor their legacy – they were quiet about their contribution to our free society. Working to complete the vision of Pacific Aviation Museum Pearl Harbor has a very special significance to me and my family.”
